

Verity Systems — Comprehensive Codebase Review

Generated: 2026-01-19

This document is an in-depth technical review of the Verity Systems repository and its primary products: the API server (backend), the Electron desktop app, the Expo mobile app, and the browser extension. The review inspects architecture, key files, dependencies, security posture, functionality, gaps toward an MVP, and a concrete plan to move forward. Where appropriate I link to files in the workspace for precise reference.

Quick summary

- Core components: a Python FastAPI backend (`python-tools`), Electron desktop (`desktop-app`), Expo React Native mobile (`verity-mobile`), and a Manifest V3 browser extension (`browser-extension`).
- Build/test tooling: pytest, Playwright, Puppeteer, Docker Compose, Electron Builder, Expo.
- Status: large, production-oriented codebase with many polished features. MVP depends on production-ready provider integrations, metrics, and hardened auth. Several security/usability hardening and automated CI checks remain to reach a deployable public MVP.

2.3 Sample API Responses

Example 1: True Claim - "The Earth is Round"

{
  "id": "ver_1767943674_6216",
  "claim": "The Earth is round",
  "verdict": "mostly_true",
  "confidence": 1.0,
  "explanation": "Extensive astronomical, geodetic, and photographic evidence shows that the Earth is not flat but an almost spherical body (an oblate spheroid), so describing it as 'round' is accurate in ordinary language, though its precise shape deviates slightly from a perfect sphere. NASA and NOAA describe Earth as roughly spherical with an equatorial bulge, and satellite images from space directly confirm this globular shape.",

{
  "id": "ver_1767943697_6932",
  "claim": "Einstein discovered gravity",
  "verdict": "false",
  "confidence": 1.0,
  "explanation": "Isaac Newton formulated the first successful universal law of gravitation in the 17th century, more than two centuries before Einstein. Einstein did not discover gravity; he developed the general theory of relativity (1915), which provided a new geometric description of gravity as the curvature of spacetime, improving and extending Newton's theory.",

Example 3: Misinformation - "COVID Vaccines Cause Autism"

  "id": "ver_1767943707_2433",
  "claim": "COVID-19 vaccines cause autism",
  "verdict": "false",
  "confidence": 1.0,
  "explanation": "Extensive evidence from large epidemiologic studies, systematic reviews, and global expert bodies shows no causal link between vaccines—including COVID-19 vaccines—and autism. A 2025 WHO Global Advisory Committee on Vaccine Safety review of 31 primary studies (2010–2025) reaffirmed that vaccines, including those with thiomersal or aluminum adjuvants, do not cause autism spectrum disorder (ASD).",
